

NO GUTS, NO GLORY- CRESCENT SALUTES THE ARMED FORCES ON THE SURGICAL STRIKE DAY

To pledge their support for the armed forces, B.S. Abdur Rahman Crescent Institute of Science and Technology celebrated “Surgical Strike Day” in a more patriotic way. Instead of remembering Martyrs of India within the campus, Crescent students took a devoted step to march into Officers training academy, Chennai to show their gratitude to the officers’ sacrifice made for the country. The students were taken to the Officers training academy under the guidance of Major General Gurdeep Narang, Dean (Student Affairs), who himself was trained in this training academy.

Inspiring videos about Officers training academy, group discussions with gallantry award winners, display of armored fighting vehicles and missile, visit officer’s library and museum gave a vast knowledge to students about the practices of armed forces. The students were deeply moved by the officers’ journey from being a civilian to an armed force cadre. Major Ankith and his associate encouraged students to do their responsibilities to the nation irrespective of any jobs they are in and to follow their passion. They also shared their nerve cracking war moments which illuminated the minds with immeasurable sacrifice made by armed forces at the borders to safeguard our nation. He who dare not falter and Crescent students took a pride to praise the darers of the nation on September 29, Surgical Strike Day.
